THEME

During the years we have spent in high school we have developed reasoning powers through intellectual pursuits; we have increased our initiative in organizations and athletics; we have learned to be useful citizens by participating in school government; we have formed valuable acquaintances which may be life-long.

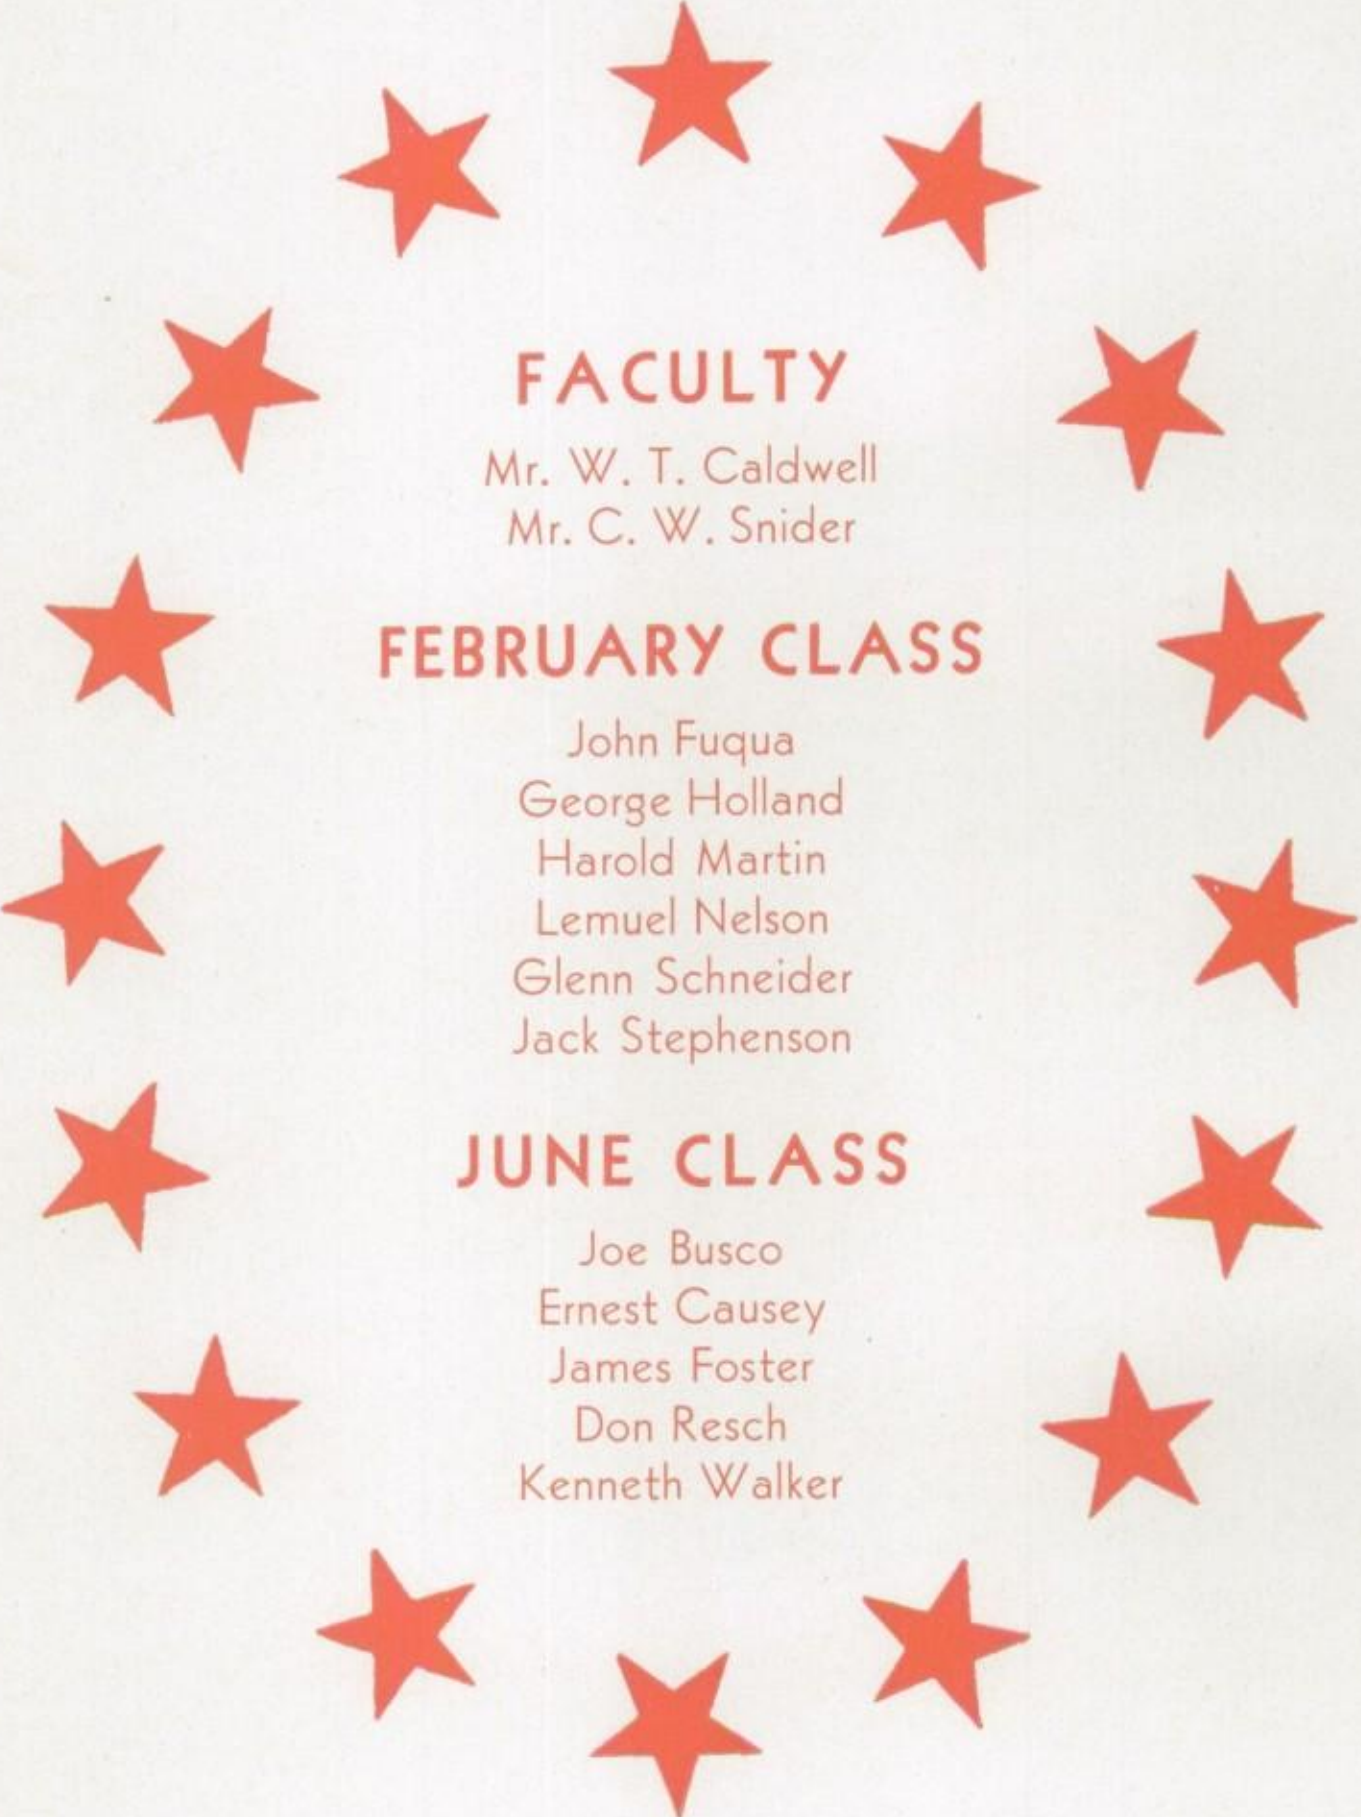

Because high school has been the ruling factor in our lives, the appropriate theme for the 1941 "Dias Cardinales" is "Our Campus World."

DEDICATION

To Floyd A. Johnson, the man who has inspired and guided us not only by his words of wisdom, but also by his splendid example, we, the classes of 1941, do dedicate this, our annual, in the hope that such a small tribute may express, in some small measure, our gratitude for his leadership.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Dr. Will C. Crawford

MEMBERS of the graduating class of 1941:

Never before have I felt the need of expressing to a graduating class of Hoover High School the necessity of taking upon themselves the responsibility and maturity that perhaps in former years a people of your age could have postponed.

Each graduating class, as it leaves high school, has to adjust itself to the world as it is at the time of graduation whether it is a time of economic depression, a period of great industrial achievement, or a time of great want and suffering in this country as well as in others.

The youth that leaves high school today should be equipped to live a balanced life in the face of social changes in our communities. A graduate will not need to spend his leisure time stupidly or accept cheap and barren amusement. He has learned to discriminate in the choice of art, music, literature, and moving pictures. He has learned to respect the beautiful in the culture of other lands and to conserve the natural resources of his own country.

The education process is a continuing one, however, and the excellent person is he who makes great demands upon himself. If you have enriched your life by the things that you have learned, your community is ready for you and needs you. Although you may have a special service to give and are continuing your education, nevertheless, your character, your way of life, and your knowledge will be felt today by those about you.

May you accept the challenge of American Citizenship and all that it implies as you take your place in the community.

Sincerely,

Floyd A. Johnson

"v.v.v."

A MESSAGE TO SENIOR A'S

You have hope and faith and youth as part of your assets in starting out to assume self-responsibility. May you always in time of need have courage, too. None of us knows what the future holds for us, but my wish for each of you is that you may experience happiness and success in your chosen occupation.

Most sincerely yours,

Virginia W. Kyes

A MESSAGE TO GRADUATES

It is with a great deal of feeling that I say "good-by" to you seniors of 1941 upon your graduation. You are graduating into a nation wrought with the fever of preparedness, preparedness to protect itself against the enemies of democracy. In this most essential military preparedness program do not let us forget the necessity of preparedness for life, one of the milestones of which you have just passed.

It is my hope that your training here at Herbert Hoover High School has been of such a nature that you will be better prepared to meet the problems of the world. It is also my hope that you will continue to study the social, political, economic, and religious trends of the world so you may continue to be prepared to meet life as you come into contact with it.

My best wishes go with you.

FEBRUARY CLASS

FROM the time that Senior A's proudly displayed their new class sweaters on the opening day of the semester until graduation, the February Class performed its numerous activities under the leadership of Charles Blackburn, president; John Doria, vice-president; Gail Pitzer, secretary-treasurer, and the other thirteen members of the cabinet.

The social hour, at which ambitious seniors mastered the art of dancing, was enjoyed weekly in the Girls' Gym. Home Coming Day on October 26 was enthusiastically celebrated with a parade of colorful floats up El Cajon Boulevard, followed by a rally in the stadium. November 16, the day of the traditional "grid" struggle with San Diego High School, will be remembered by graduates as a highlight of their senior year.

"Take My Advice," the class play, ran for three nights, November 28, 29, and 30, at the Roosevelt Auditorium. John Doria, adorned with a big black mustache and a fat cigar, stole the show as the unfortunate victim of all oil stock salesmen.

Numerous seniors discovered the thrill of dancing at the Military Ball on December 6 and the A. S. B. Ball on December 13.

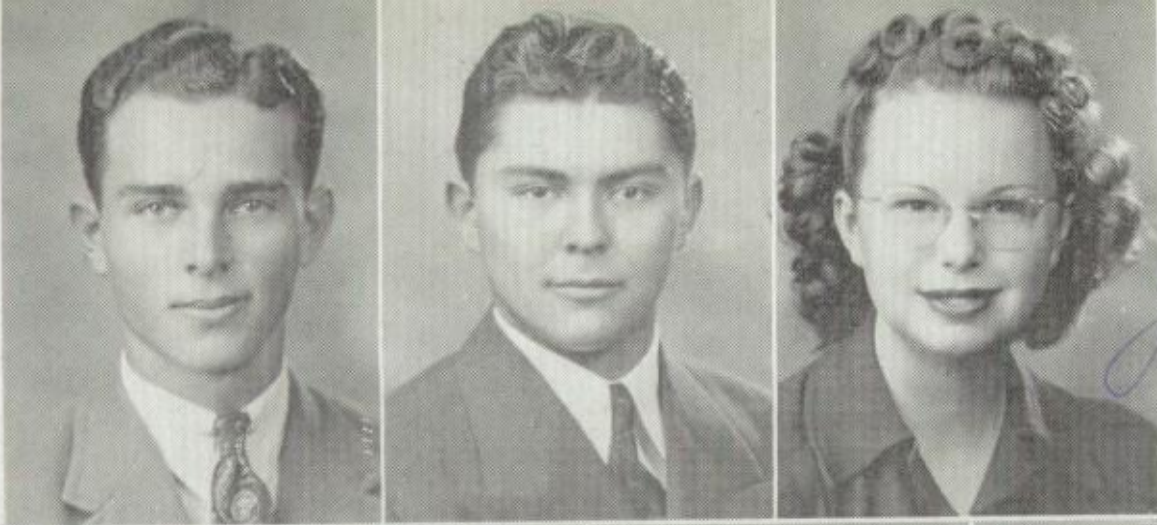

On January 15, Senior A's experienced the exclusive joy of "ditching" to Pine Valley. Cabinet member Bud Isham was responsible for the fun the class had while dancing, hiking, horseback riding, playing baseball, and, especially, eating.

The solemn beauty of Vespers, held in the First Methodist Church on February 2, made a deep impression on the minds of seniors. Dr. George H. Warmer gave an inspirational address on "Facing the Unknown."

Traditional Tower Day, the date on which students are presented with awards and scholarships, was celebrated on the morning of February 4. After the ceremony, seniors climbed to the tower to sign their names on the roster.

The evening of February 4 was the date of the long-awaited Senior A Prom, which was arranged by Bud East. Bids of colorful red suede, decorated with the cardinal seal, were given to seniors who danced in Hotel del Coronado to the music of Frank Comstock's Orchestra. An entirely new event on the Senior A Calendar was the dinner party, held on the same evening as the ball, at the U. S. Grant Hotel for students who did not dance.

Senior A Commencement on February 5 was the impressive finale. Margaret Shepperd and Quincy Wright gave talks on the timely topic, "Education for Common Defense." With the receipt of their long-awaited diplomas, the Senior A's had at last completed their high school careers and faced a future of higher education or entrance into the working world.

JUNE CLASS

THE largest graduating class in the history of Hoover was the Senior A group for June, 1941. Under president Robert Laabs, co-vice-presidents Bette Willis and Harry Cook, and secretary-treasurer Joyce Dick, the class enjoyed the full flavor of traditional activities with a spice and zest all its own.

To turn rebellious feet into paths of rhythm and grace was the work of Wilma Cottrell and Wilbur Schoeller. After-school-dancing-practice turned wallflowers into polished dancers.

The Senior A play, "What a Life," under the supervision of Mr. C. Gerald Hasty and student director Geneva Gray was a hilarious take-off on high school life. Every curtain saw a packed house due to the efforts of ticket sellers Beatrice North and Charles Lake.

This largest class also had the largest annual ever produced at Hoover. Over eight hundred copies were distributed to seniors and other students. Ardith Hellberg and Phyllis Kefalas were managing editors. The Senior A Cardinal nearly turned tabloid with the large number of pictures, but, under the guidance of John King, proved itself to be the best ever.

The actual activities started in the latter part of May with Ditch Day. Pine Valley again saw the Senior A's ready for a memorable day of swimming, riding, hiking, baseball, volleyball, tennis, and dancing. Directed by Ernie Summers the holiday proved an immense success. Cardinal Co-ed Day put President Gere Miller in full sway and the girls out of uniform.

The Senior A Ball was a delightful evening of semi-formal frolic due to the careful planning of Shirley Jones. For the Seniors who didn't care to dance there was a dinner party arranged by Eleanor Reese. Both functions proved themselves to be highlights of the Senior activities. Announcements, arranged by Genevieve Parker, were sent out soon after.

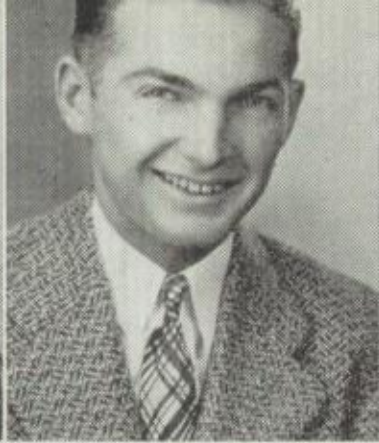

A quietly beautiful Vespers ceremony came in June. Planned by Jane Lothlen, it reflected the more serious side of the graduation.

Tower Day gave Seniors their hard earned awards in scholarship and certificates of merit.

Commencement exercises completed our class activities. The final ceremony was concluded by the distribution of diplomas. Glenna Finch planned and supervised this activity.

Mr. Bernard Carman guided and helped class officers in his position of adviser. Mrs. Ethel De Vol Imel, girls, and Mr. Malcolm C. Smith, boys, were class counselors.

And so, we passed from the little world that was our Alma Mater to the greater world outside.

FOOTBALL

THE football season of 1940 was highlighted by the winning of the San Diego-Hoover game. Although our team lost four "grid" battles, it won five and finished in second place in the Coast League. The fact that five of the squad's players, Tom Harper, blocking back, George Brown, end, Dick Attig, tackle, Bud East, guard, and Charles Doane, tackle, were chosen on the All Conference Team is of credit to Hoover High School. Both Dick Attig, who was selected for the Southern California Team, and Tom Harper, captain of the 1940 squad, were outstanding players. Hoover's team was trained by Head Coach Walker.

Here's the summary of the 1940 Season which was very successful, under Coach Walker's clever guidance.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

THE 1940-41 basketball season proved to be a very successful season for Hoover in spite of a change in the coaching staff. Coach Caldwell was called to the Service shortly after the season opened, and the squad had to readjust itself to the new system of play introduced by Coach Wilson.

During the season Hoover compiled a record of ten wins and four defeats. The highlight of the season was the 32-17 victory over San Diego High. Hoover scored 370 points to their opponents' 302. Arnold Saul led the team in scoring with 88 points. He was followed by Moy with 66 and Phelps with 52.

"B" BASKETBALL

IN a series of thirteen games which comprised the B casaba calendar during the 1940-41 season, the B team, under the guidance of cadet coach Ralph Callahan, won nine tilts and dropped four.

It would be difficult to pick individual stars from the ten boys who survived the vicissitudes of the season. Clary Duke was out for the rest of the season when he broke his ankle in the Alhambra game. Letter winners were: Captain Bobby Haddock, Don Smith, William Long, Pete Maheras, Wayne Wagner, Lloyd Wagner, Don Hankins, Clary Duke, Hardy Kuykendall, Al French, and Manager Monroe Clark.

The summary of the games is as follows:

AUTOGRAPHS OF THE MIGHTY

BASEBALL

ONE of the most traditional American games is baseball, originated in America by an American for Americans. In the brief century it has swept from alley teams to national leagues. Hoover is well represented in this sport by a team that has, through its personal effort and that of its coach, Mr. John Perry, achieved an exceptionally high reputation for skill, stamina, and sportsmanship.

Eight returning lettermen turned out for the team, Ray Boone, Bob Stevenson, Jim Belasco, Don Schmidt, Tommy Jones, Paul Helder, John Long, and Art Spahr. These boys have carried the red and white colors to victory in numerous encounters with strong rival teams.

Juniors who made the team were Don Parker, John Swezey, and Bobby Haddock; Clark Higgins, Gus Gesler, Tom Parker, Don Smith, Billy Sullivan, and Reuben Basada were the sophomores who fought for Hoover. Lavier Lokke managed the team under Coach Perry.

The schools who met our team on the diamond were San Bernardino, Grossmont, Sweetwater, Escondido, Marines, San Diego, Long Beach, Covina, and the U. S. C. Freshmen.

A high percentage of wins was maintained for the season by the hard fighting Cardinal team. Constant practicing, a large number of non-league games, and a fine morale among team members account for the team's record.

VARSITY TRACK

THE sport that requires the most all around skill and strength probably comes under the heading of track. Hours of effort, practice, strain go into every event. Races, hurdles, high jumps, pole vaults, and shot put all come under this head. These all are under the personal supervision of Coach Lawrence Carr.

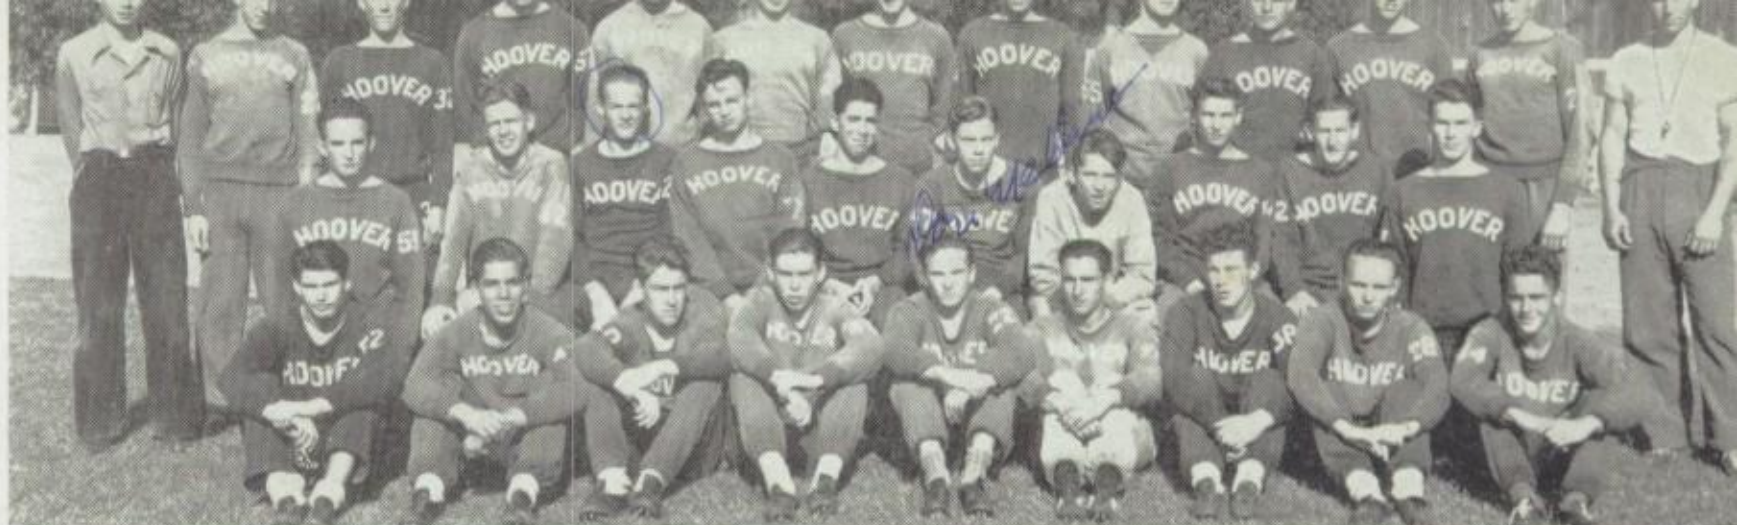

The returning lettermen this year were Jack Kaiser, high jump and high hurdle; Emmett Marshall, broad jump and high hurdle; Bob O'Keefe, pole vault; Bill Garber, mile; Jim Morgan, quarter mile and sprints; and Tom Davis, quarter mile.

Other outstanding men were Ted Jacobs, shot put; Willie Steele, high and broad jump and high hurdles; Bill Kissel, high jump; Herbert Swenson, sprints; Jay Heaton, pole vault; Jim Hanley, sprints; Kenneth Moyer, quarter mile; Wayne Wagner, mile; Lloyd Wagner, mile; Colin Reilly, mile; Ross Workman, low hurdles; and Jack Weseloh, low hurdles.

The first part of the season was devoted to meets with Metropolitan League schools. Huntington Beach, San Diego, and the State Frosh were next on the list. The Coast League finals were completed by a match with Long Beach and San Diego High Schools.

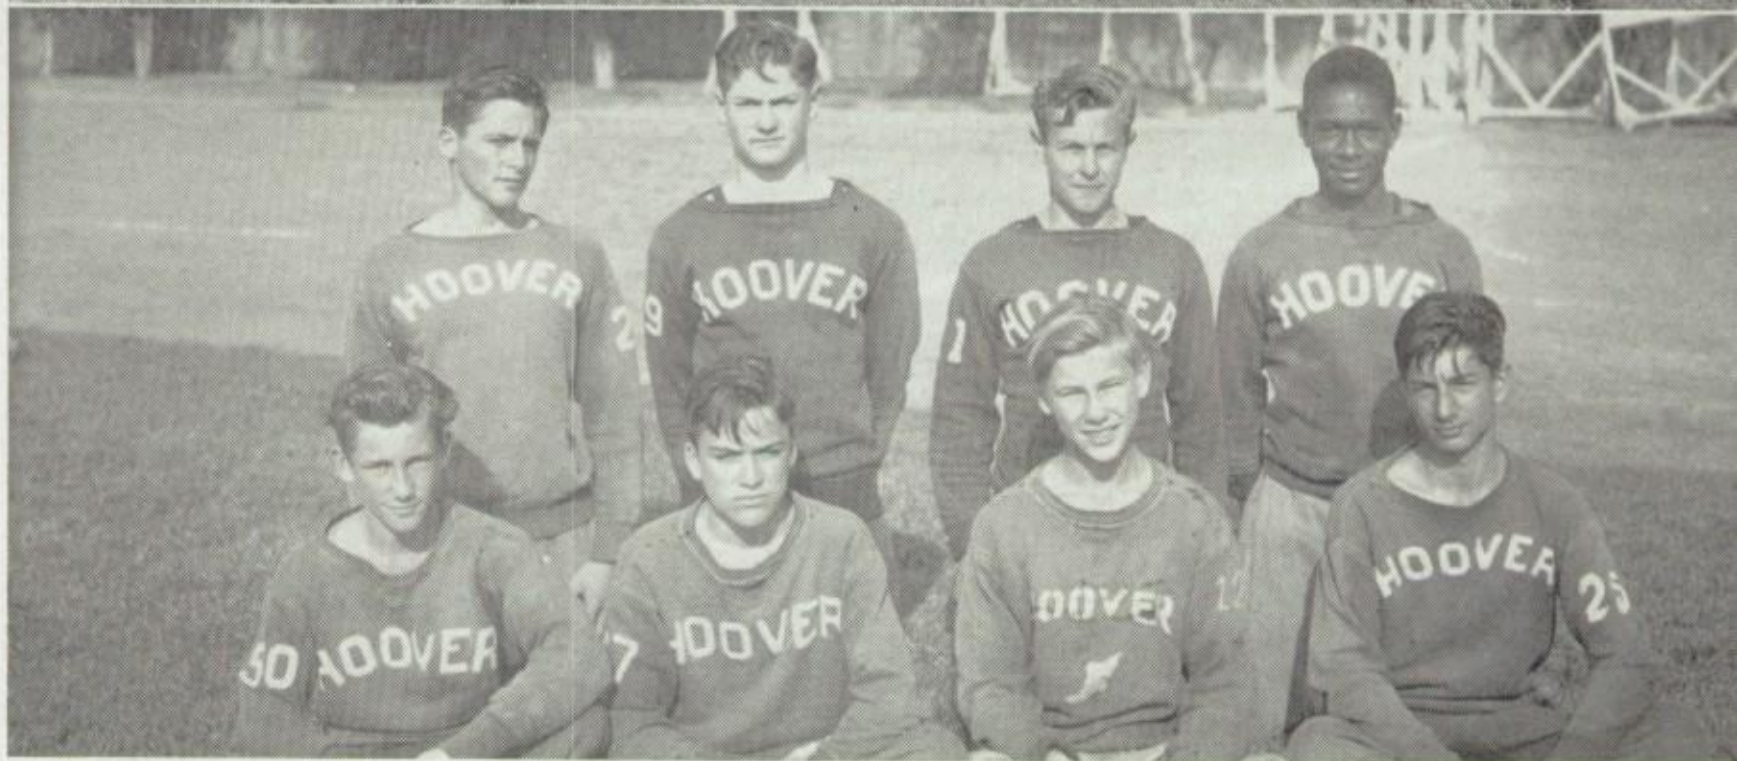

Hoover's excellent record in the long series of meets was undoubtedly due to the strength, skill, and unfailing perseverance of her track team.

"B" TRACK

THE "B" track team, with trophies of two Coast League victories and a Southern California League win on their past records, fought their way to a number of tough victories this year. The team also played with the varsity in some of the most important meets of the season.

Outstanding men were Lane Cole and Dick Dick in the hurdles; Bob Wilson and Don Berger in the high jump; Hardy Kuykendall and Herbert Swenson in the shot put; Ed Thomas, Bob Smith, and Gene Randall in the pole vault; John Haning in the broad jump; Frank Ratty and Herbert Swenson in the sprints; and Colin Reilly, Wayne and Lloyd Wagner, Henry Chisholm and Jimmy Kutzner in the distance.

"C" TRACK

A SMALL group of versatile men made one of the strongest track squads in Hoover's history. One of the best victories of the year was scored when they downed a strong San Diego team to take the meet.

The members of this squad should develop in their various events, thereby assuring the Red and White varsity track team of the future some fine material.

Outstanding men were Jimmy Reading, sprint, hurdle, and broad jump; Nate Steele, sprints and high jump; Charles McKee, hurdle and shot put; Roy Everingham, pole vault; and Arnold Margulis, the 660. These boys carried the Red and White on the cinder path this year.

TENNIS

Leonard Cosgrove.

HOOVER'S tennis team again experienced a successful season, having the strongest group of players in its history. Captained by Dick Collier, the netsters met and defeated teams from State College, Grossmont, El Centro, La Jolla, Sweetwater, Ryan Aircraft, and other strong competitors.

The focal point of the team this year was the strong doubles team of Richard Collier and Arnold Saul which went through the season undefeated. These two players also reached the finals of the city wide Ink Tennis Tournament, defeating the best junior players in San Diego, with Saul emerging the victor.

HOOVER'S golf club played the regular league schedule this year under the supervision of its sponsor, Mr. Lambert. Golf, valuable as a sport because of its long carry-over into after life, has attracted a large following at Hoover.

The season started April 25 with Al Hart and Jack McCarty as most outstanding players. The Emerald Hills Golf Club gave free use of its course to the club for practicing.

GOLF

ICE HOCKEY

ICE HOCKEY is the newest form of organized athletics at Hoover. Flashing steel blades defended Hoover on the rink this year. Beating San Diego by seven to two and losing to the powerful Consolidated team seven to one and seven to nothing respectively, our team displayed skill and stamina.

Lettermen were Captain Gerald Brosteaux, Oakley Allen, Malverne Berlin, Robert Changnon, Orville Hill, Bill Jones, Al Raymond, James Stillman, Robert Houston, Gilbert Sigman, and Manager Bennie Houston.

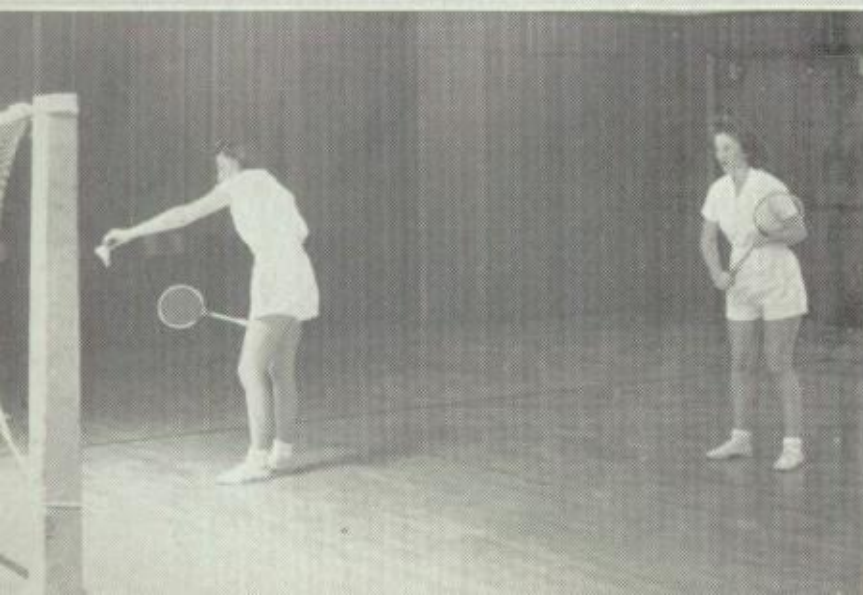

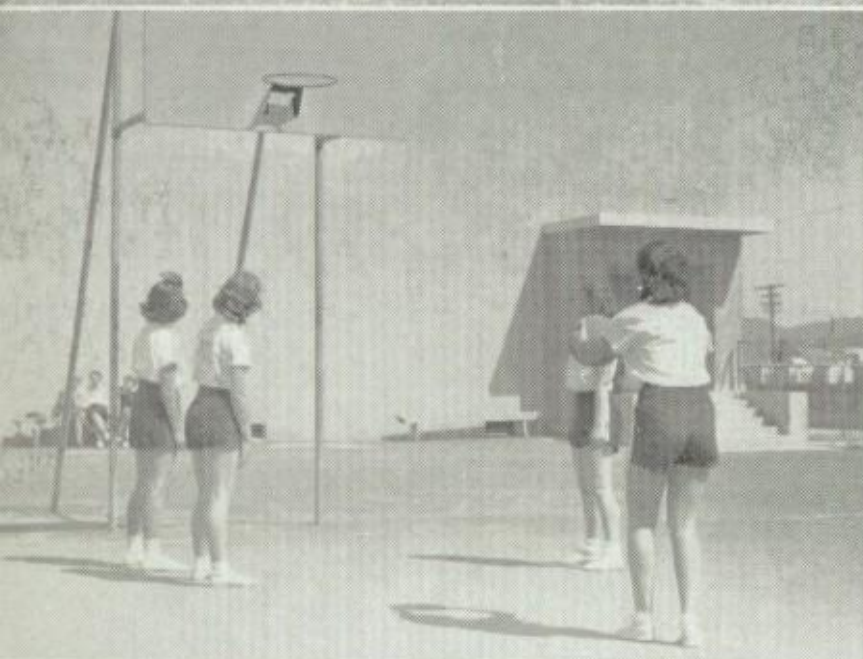

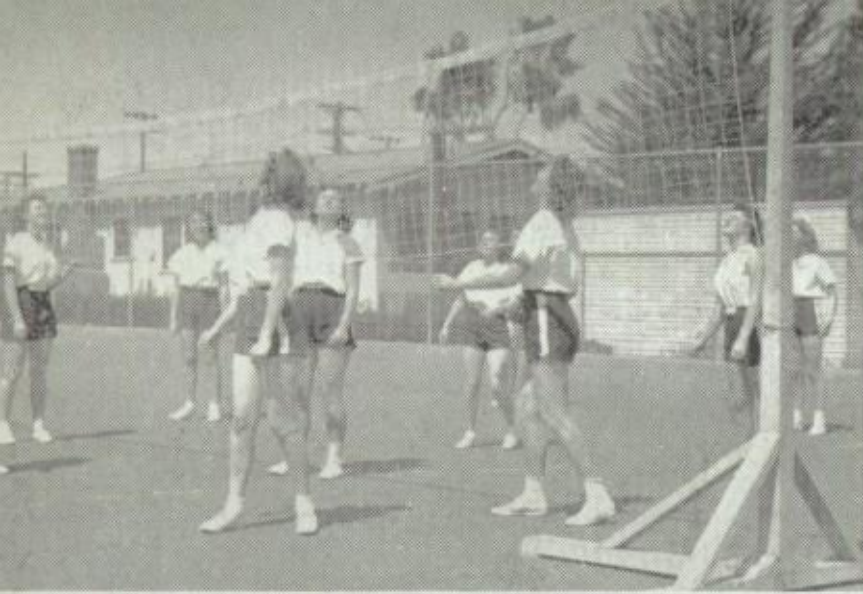

SOME of the most strenuous athletic work on the campus comes under the head of cross country. Under Coach Young this year's team competed in two meets and the Coast League run.

The season was started by a 35 to 33 meet taken by the State College Frosh. The next meet was with San Diego High and the State Frosh. Climaxing and concluding the season was the Coast League tourney where the Cardinals took third. Outstanding men were Colin Reilly and returning letterman Tommy Jones.

CROSS COUNTRY

GIRLS'

FOR one hour each day Hoover girls don a neat gym uniform of black and white and indulge in relaxation of the muscles as well as of the vocal cords. With increased facilities, including the new courts and the gymnasium completed last year, interest in girls' sports has grown greatly.

Regular gym periods featured basketball, volleyball, speedball, field hockey, and softball. Special classes, which were too popular to accommodate all of the girls interested, were conducted in drill, tennis, tumbling, folk dancing, clog and character dancing, and corrective physical education.

Under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Stanley, the drill team has been one of Hoover's most outstanding organizations for several years. Nelda Smith of the February class and Beatrice North, of the June class, were captains this year. Along with the drill team, Miss Geneva Upp's tumbling team performed at many school assemblies and football games. These agile acrobats were outfitted in white shirts, shoes, and stockings, with contrasting red shorts.

SPORTS

Novice racket wielders met sixth period every day to practice their game, and to receive instruction from Miss Lena Petersen, tennis coach. Shirley Rorick won the title of girls' tennis champion for the second successive year, having won the annual girls' tennis tournament.

After school activities included the riding club, sponsored by Miss Margaret Minshall; a badminton club which met every Friday afternoon to "bash birdies"; and after-school games of basketball, speedball, and softball.

The most outstanding Senior A girl athletes were invited to participate in the two playdays which climaxed the year's physical education program. Twenty girls went to State College on April 18 for a State-sponsored play day, and fifteen co-eds took part in the annual County play day held April 26 at Point Loma High School.

Headed by the girls' athletics commissioner, Barbara Cutler, the Girls' Athletic Association completed another successful year. To be eligible for the G. A. A., a girl must have received an "A" or "B" in gym, or have been on an after-school team.

FALL COMMISSIONERS

THE leaders in school activities, those selected to bear the responsibility and dignity of the highest offices Hoover can offer, are the commissioners. Their duties require high scholastic ability, a high record of citizenship, and extra curricular time. The students filling these requirements are selected on a basis of popularity with the student body.

Those who held positions for the fall semester were Betty Bunch, commissioner general; Barbara Cutler, girls' athletics; George Brown, boys' athletics; Peggie Gardner, girls' activities; Bud East, boys' activities; Kenneth Brown, publications; Arthur Sherman and Robert Laabs, finance; and Glenna Finch, cultural activities. The clerk for the fall semester was Alice Holt, while Bill Hanson filled the position of chronicler.

"Hello Day" and the consequent "Hello Walk" were perhaps the most important single activity of the fall commissioners. In addition to this, all dances, rallies and other student body activities came under their supervision. Homecoming Day and the homecoming parade and party were planned and executed in conjunction with post-graduates.

SPRING COMMISSIONERS

THOSE June students who were chosen to take the school's highest honors, as commissioners, were led by James Neumeister, commissioner general; Barbara Cutler, girls' athletics; Dick Attig, boys' athletics; Glenna Finch, girls' activities; Paul Drummer, boys' activities; Jerry Anderson, publications; Bob Houston, finance; and Jean Franck, culture. Peggie Gardner, clerk, and Bill Hanson, chronicler, also filled high positions.

All dances, rallies, and athletic activities that are for or by the student body came under the direct supervision of the commissioners. The unveiling of the "Girl Reading" statue, a gift of former graduating classes, was one of the most important functions of the school year. The military ball, the A. S. B. ball, and all other important dances were under the supervision of the commissioners. James Neumeister was instrumental in the installation of the new public address system.

JANUARY CLASS PLAY

"I think I hear my wife calling me!" sputtered Johnny Doria to an oil-stock salesman. In the mid-year class play, "Take My Advice," Johnny, as Joseph Weaver, provoked the most laughs. Three performances of the comedy were given on the evenings of November 28, 29, and 30, at the Roosevelt Auditorium.

The plot of the play centered around the antics of the eccentric Weaver Family. Jim Holton, as the love-sick seventeen-year-old Bud Weaver, provided the romantic interest through his adoration of the siren, Marella Scotte, enacted by Maryan Hopkinson. To make matters worse, Bud had a mother, portrayed by Willa Brown, who believed in the power of numbers, and a father hilariously interpreted by Johnny Doria, who was the victim of all oil-stock salesmen. Virginia Ewing played Bud's stage-struck sister, Ann Weaver.

The parents' problem was to prove to their son, Bud, that Marella Scotte, who was seven years his elder, did not really love him. Tom Fitzgerald, as Bradley Clement, Bud's English professor, tried to solve the family's problems; and the results kept the audience laughing throughout the entire play. Other seniors who added fun to the comedy were Bud Isham as Jim Thayer, a high-pressure oil-salesman, and Phillip Peterson as Kerry Van Kind, a product of Hollywood.

"Take My Advice" was staged and produced by C. Gerald Hasty, assisted by Virginia Halligan, Senior A Play Manager.

JUNE CLASS PLAY

"WHAT A LIFE," a three-act comedy by Clifford Goldsmith, was presented March 25, 26, 27, 28 and 29 in the Roosevelt Auditorium. The Hoover Senior Class of June, 1941, presentation, which marked the play's first appearance on the west coast, featured Scotty Williams as Henry Aldrich, popular radio and Broadway character.

The scene of the action was in the office of Mr. Bradley (Kenneth Brown), principal of Central High School.

When Henry's mother told him that he must receive the highest grade in a history test in order to take Barbara Pearson (Pat O'Brien) to the Spring Dance, the incorrigible Henry copied the paper of George Bigelow (John Burnett). This got him into difficulty with Mr. Patterson (Clinton Yantiss), his history teacher, and subsequent happenings resulted in his almost being suspended from school.

Romantic interest was supplied by the principal's secretary, Miss Shea (Mildred Clevenger), and Mr. Nelson (George McGuire), vice-principal of Central High.

Other characters were played by Helen Stuart, Lois Ashby, June Souther, Jennie Byfield, Judy Cosio, Betty Mantor, Peggy Pingry, Willard Nichols, John King and Quenten Goldstein.

Geneva Gray was assistant to the director. The entire production was staged by C. Gerald Hasty.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

HOOVER'S A Cappella Choir, a musical organization under the able leadership of Myron B. Green, has represented the school this year before many clubs, churches, and other organizations, in thirty-five or more concerts.

Some of the most important engagements of the fall season were at the La Jolla Women's Club, the San Diego Club, Hoover's Christmas assembly, and the February Vesper service.

Musical activities in the spring semester began with the dedication of the Donal Hord statue in the patio. Other highlights of the semester were concerts for the Y. W. C. A., the San Diego Masonic Lodge, the June Vespers, and the June Graduation Exercises in the Ford Bowl.

SENIOR GIRLS' GLEE

THE Senior Girls' Glee Club, composed of sixty members, provides not only a very interesting and beneficial study of music for the students but also enjoyable entertainment for everyone.

The Club has given concerts for the P.-T. A., for school activities, and for churches; at both graduation exercises they rendered two beautiful musical selections. During the Christmas season, the Glee Club joined with the other vocal departments on a caroling party; they went to various places in town singing Christmas carols.

Under the able direction of Myron B. Green, the Senior Girls' Glee has moved up to the position of one of the top ranking musical organizations of Hoover High.

UNDER the leadership of Nita Hardege as president, Virginia Perry as vice-president, Sue Gaines as secretary-treasurer, Mary Rose Sloper as program chairman, and Sylvia Lipits as publicity chairman, the fourth period Junior Girls' Glee had a successful semester. The spring group of seventy girls sang music in three and four parts. "Gypsy Love Song" by Victor Herbert and "Good Night, Good Night, Beloved" by Ciro Pensuti were among the songs they mastered under the instruction of Mrs. Madeleine W. Hofmann. The Junior Girls' Glee has proved to be a fine opportunity for girls desiring musical experience.

JUNIOR GIRLS' GLEE

THE fundamentals of vocal music are learned in the Junior Girls' Glee. The third period class of sixty-four members elected as its officers: Sally Feeney, president; Maxine Riggins, vice-president; Claudia Adams, secretary-treasurer; and Gloria Johnson, program chairman. Under the direction of Mrs. Madeleine W. Hofmann, the group learned many favorite selections, such as "Short'nin' Bread," "Come With Thy Sweet Voice Again," and "On Wings of Song." The highlight of the spring semester was an enjoyable beach party, sponsored by the entire Music Department. The Junior Girls' Glee is justly popular with students because it is both enjoyable and educational.

SENIOR BOYS' GLEE

ONE of the most prominent musical organizations at Hoover is the Senior Boys' Glee, which is directed by Myron B. Green. Besides providing delightful entertainment for others, it affords interesting and beneficial study for its members.

The group's many appearances included singing before the Parent-Teacher Association, at school graduations, and Vespers. Probably the biggest event of the year comes at Christmas, when all musical organizations have their annual Christmas caroling party. The music organizations visit the County Hospital, the Vauclain Home, the Mercy Hospital, the Naval Hospital, the Plaza, and the Marine Base.

A party is held after the caroling and another during the last of the school year. Student leaders Dick Attig and Eldon Johnson assist Mr. Green in directing all public performances.

ORCHESTRA

THE Hoover High School Orchestra this year has been under the co-conductorship of Frank T. Close and David Sterne. Maestro Close has acted both as supervisor and musical director. Mr. David Sterne, from State College, has served Mr. Close as rehearsal instructor of the group.

The orchestra has furnished the musical programs of commencement, and have, as before, performed in the City Orchestra Festival. Outside engagements have been at the University Club, where Mr. Close lectured on the orchestral instruments, while the musicians demonstrated his explanations. The Orchestra's Spring Concert at the Woodrow Wilson Auditorium was the highlight of musical events at Hoover this year.

The Orchestra's success is accounted for by the individual virtuosity of the musicians, and by the masterful baton of its leader.

Nick Stamatopoulos has ably held the position of Concertmaster of the orchestra. Other principals are: Wanda Howard, viola; Genevieve Howard, 'cello; Helen Moynahan, bass violin; Ronald Hals, flute; Arthur Jensen, clarinet; Warren Browning, horn; and Robert Wilson, trumpet.

DRILL TEAM

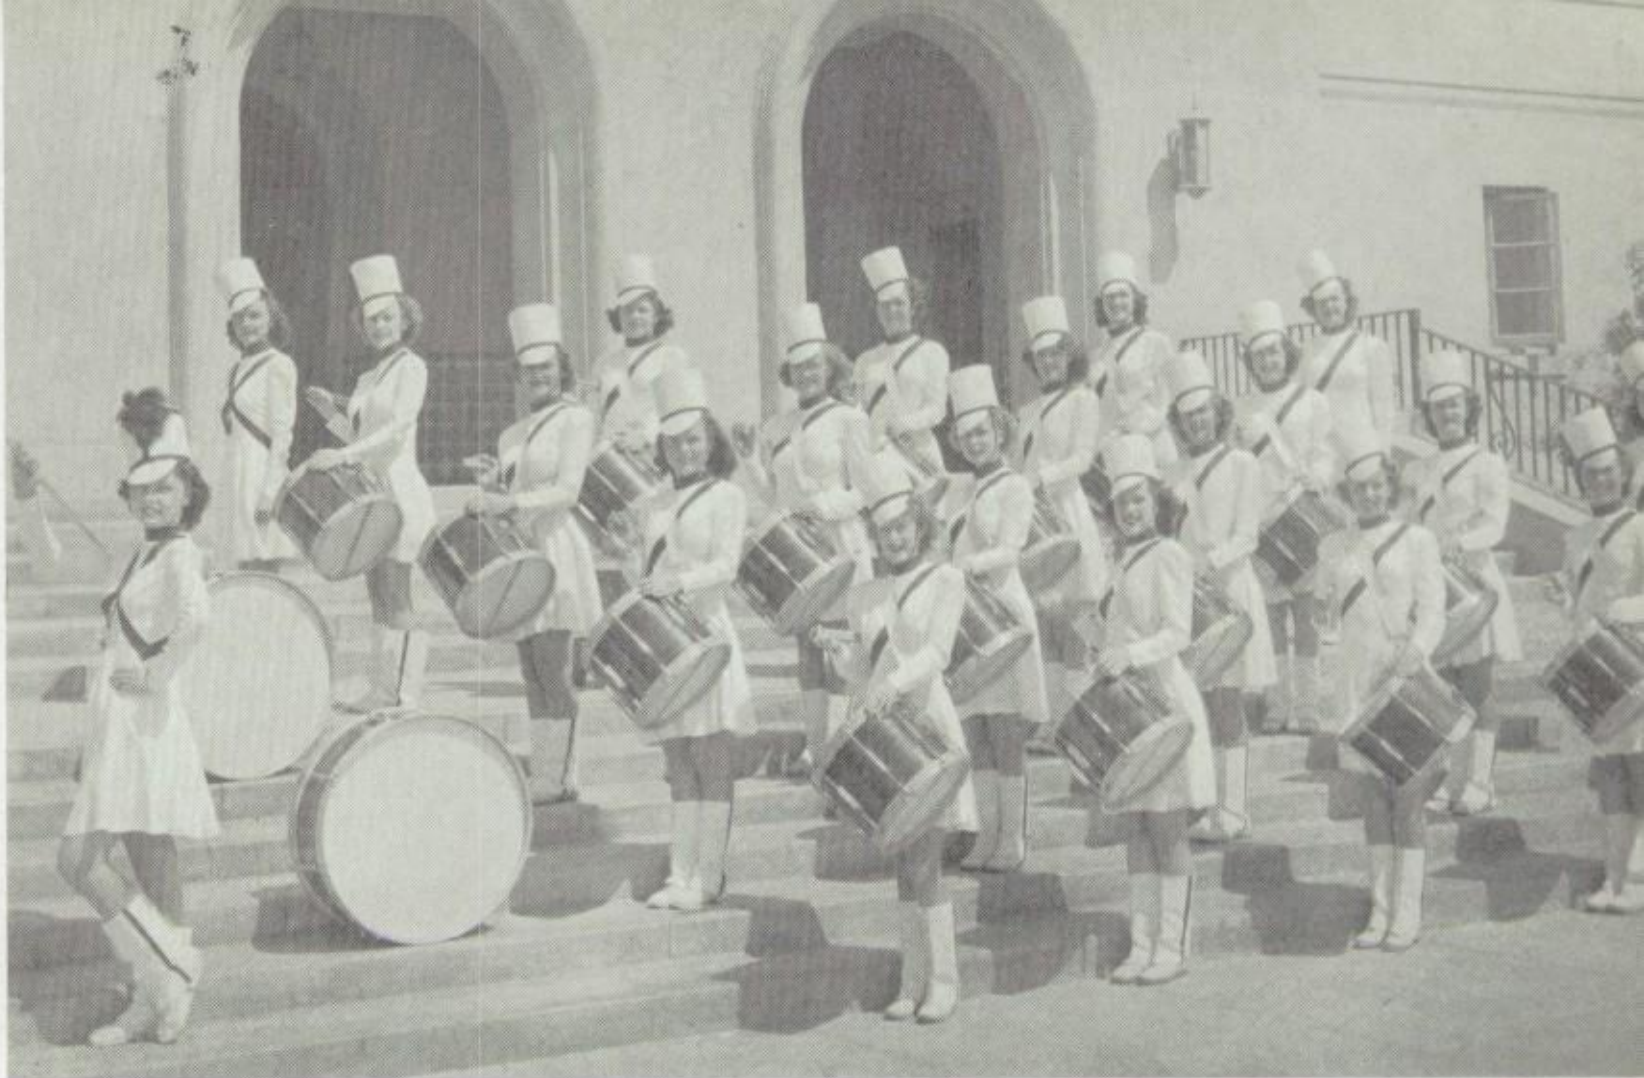

CLAD in jaunty uniforms of red and white, Hoover's colorful girls' drill team has completed another successful year.

In addition to marching at many school football games and rallies, the drill team performed at the Ryan-Tribune Christmas party in Balboa Stadium; at the Elks' Charity football game, and participated in the North Park Christmas parade.

To be eligible for membership in this organization a girl must have a trim figure, a good sense of rhythm, and better than average grades. Members are chosen by tryouts conducted in the sophomore gym classes.

During the first semester Nelda Smith was captain; Alice Holt, Jean Dobson, Beatrice North, and Mildred Clevenger were lieutenants. Officers for the second semester were Beatrice North, captain; and Mildred Clevenger, Virginia Snyder, Alice Slatore, and Marjorie Johnson, lieutenants.

The drill team is under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mildred Stanley.

GIRLS' DRUM CORPS

THE Girls' Drum Corps, a new organization at Hoover, was organized in the spring of 1940. Entirely extra-curricular, the corps met every Monday and Thursday afternoon to practice, also during summer vacation.

In addition to marching at school football games and rallies, and at Cardinal Co-ed Day, the drum corps participated in several parades and competitions. During the first year of existence, these marching co-eds won three trophies: a plaque at the Elks' Fiftieth Anniversary Parade, a cup at the Admission Day Parade, and an award at the South of Broadway Parade.

The uniforms, which are made by the girls themselves, consist of short white sharkskin dresses, princess style, with long fitted sleeves and red shoulder straps. Military hats and leggings, also trimmed with red, complete the snappy outfit.

Military procedure is followed as far as possible, and discipline is maintained by a merit system. To be eligible for membership a girl must have a "B" scholarship average, pass a marching test, and be from five feet and one inch to five feet and six inches tall.

Officers who led the twenty members of the drum corps this year were Ruth Hanson, captain; Dorothy Rae and Frances Power, lieutenants; Elsie Ernst and Dorothe Long, sergeants. Mr. Frank Close was sponsor.

GIRL RESERVES

"As a Girl Reserve, I will try to face life squarely and to find and give the best."

THIS is the slogan of the Girl Reserves, an organization affiliated with the Y. W. C. A. The main activities for this year included a new girls' tea; fashion show; "Pa, Ma and Me" banquet; Mothers' Day Tea; an area conference in San Pedro; the Dream Boat, annual semi-formal ball; and the Windy Whirl, a sport dance.

Girl Reserve Week, April 20 to 26, was celebrated at Hoover by an assembly for all girls, a broadcast over Station KGB, and a carnival at the Y. W. C. A.

The following girls were officers of the organization:

The contests the club has participated in are the San Diego College Debate Tournament, Lion's Student Speakers Contest, American Legion Oratorical Contest, Toastmasters' International Extemporaneous Contest, California Bankers' Association Oratorical Contest, and the Redlands Debate Tournament.

The club's social activities include the formal and informal initiations and the annual pilgrimage to the University of Redlands' Debate Tournament.

All those who are taking, or have taken, one year of Latin are eligible for membership in the organization, which has as its aim the diffusing of knowledge about the early Romans.

THE SCRIBBLER STAFF

ESTABLISHED during the spring semester of 1940 to stimulate interest in creative writing, The Scribbler, official student body literary magazine, published in May of last year its first annual edition which sold over 700 copies. Kenneth Brown, the first editor, was assisted by a capable staff of associates.

An editorial board composed of Helen Stuart, chairman, Kenneth Brown, Muriel Shelley, and Anita Gillett headed the staff of the 1941 all-school edition of The Scribbler. Holding other staff positions were: Phyllis Kefalas, Orien Todd, Wanda Howard, Veva Jeanne Kerrigan, Beverly McCreery, Bill Nichols, Robley Baskerville, Winifred Ezard, Dick Ryberg, and June Palmer. Miss Margaret Heaton was faculty sponsor both years.

RIFLE TEAM

IN the Corp Area, Hoover's rifle team took second place in the Hearst Trophy match this year. This match, the highlight of the season, had sixty-seven schools participating. The second team came in twenty-fourth.

The first team, in order of their scores, was Bill Wilkinson, Philip Kelgard, Richard Wood, Jim Drewry, and Gordon Vining. The second team was Raymond Stevens, Robert Bailey, Lawrence Rongey, Frank Finney, and Robert Roy.

BIBLE CLUB

THE purpose of the Hoover Bible Club, which is undenominational, is to study the Bible and to provide students with an opportunity for Christian fellowship at school. At the meetings every Thursday afternoon the members hold Scripture discussions, which are sometimes led by outside speakers.

Officers of the organization for the two semesters were: presidents, Ross Baldwin, Myrtle Nash, and Geraldine Free; vice-presidents, Eleanor Reese and Luella Sale; secretary-treasurers, Marian Prentiss and Eleanor Reese. Miss Agnes Kokanour sponsored the Bible Club.

ATTENDANCE OFFICE MONITORS

GOOD citizenship, regular attendance, previous training in business principles, and ability to meet and talk with people are the qualifications necessary to become an attendance office monitor. From two to five girls work in the office each period, under the direction of Miss Margaret McVey, attendance secretary. A new policy, that of awarding a certificate for three years' service, was instituted this year.

Each year the girls buy and decorate a Christmas tree which is given, along with a basket of food and toys, to a needy family.

COUNSELORS' HELPERS

CHOSEN on the basis of efficiency, courtesy, personality, and neatness in appearance, the counselors' helpers spend a period each day acting as secretary for a counselor. Duties include filing, typing, and running various errands. Because this work takes the place of a study period, a student must have better than average grades in order to qualify.

R. O. T. C.

COMPANY E reached the largest number in its history this year by an unusually large group of recruits. Commanded by Captain David Newman and Lieutenants Robert Babenic and Robert Houston, the unit proved itself capable of holding to a high average in the year's work.

The June class saw an R. O. T. C. Military Science course offered both as a solid and a gym credit for the first time in the battalion's history. Under the new plan, a student may take both R. O. T. C. and gym, receiving a solid credit for the military science course. The student cannot, however, get a solid credit for R. O. T. C. without taking gym. Thus, it is planned to relieve some of the strain brought on by the tests and indoor work essential to the training.

The entire unit marched in the Armistice Day parade, May 30. This annual event is participated in by one or more R. O. T. C. units every year, usually alternating.

This year the Hoover unit gave a splendid performance. The three companies and the Drum Corps, together, made one of the highlights of the military parade.

Company F

COMMANDED by Captain George Kelsch and Lieutenants Robert Yenawine, Henry Peters, and Bill Cumbie, Company F shared the unprecedented growth of the battalion. Under the command of Captain Tanner this company last year took first place in the Company close order competition.

"As I predicted in 1940, we had a successful competition, and I am in hopes we shall duplicate it this year," said Sergeant E. L. Spellmeyer. Hoover took six out of eight awards, all firsts. These included first and second company and first and second platoon awards.

The Federal Inspection is an important event on the annual R. O. T. C. calendar. This is a yearly inspection by one or more high ranking officers from the regular army. The schools who attain a certain rating, an exceptionally high one, are given the rating of honor school. Last year's cadets placed high in every branch of training and would have received the rating if it hadn't been for poor facilities. This year with the new armory, the cadets hope to win the coveted award.

Company G

LAST year Company G took second place in the Company competition. This year it is under the command of Captain Albert Couvrette and Lieutenants Edgar Fleenor, Pierce Poynter, and John Engelstad.

Los Sabres is a club for the officers of Hoover's battalion. This semester's officers were Captain Dick Wood, president; Captain Albert Couvrette, vice-president; Captain George Kelsch, secretary-treasurer; and Lieutenant William Cumbie, sergeant-at-arms. Los Sabres held its initiation at Bill Olmstead's cabin in Cuyamaca.

With Battalion Commander Quenten Goldstein as chairman, a court martial board was an innovation of the Spring semester. The board, composed of all officers holding the rank of captain or above, was organized to attempt to give more justice to the individual cadet and at the same time increase the discipline and military courtesy. The board followed the court martial ordinances enforced in the regular army. Witnesses for both the plaintiff and defendant were allowed and encouraged. The only restriction placed upon the defendant was that the defense counsel had to be a Lieutenant.

QUILL AND SCROLL

THE Quill and Scroll is an international honorary society for high school journalists. To become a member of Hoover's Melville L. Slater chapter, a student must be in the upper third of his class scholastically, have done outstanding work on some school publication, and be proposed and accepted by a majority of the members.

Under the leadership of Miss Delight Smith, adviser, Jerry Anderson, fall semester president, and Muriel Shelley, spring semester president, the Quill and Scroll has awarded seven scholarships this year.

UNDER the direction of Miss Delight Smith, adviser; Kenneth Brown and Jerry Anderson, fall and spring Editors-in-Chief, the Cardinal has this year attempted to interest more readers by additional pictures, features, and liveliness of page makeup.

The Cardinal, with a distribution of twenty-six hundred copies a week, is produced by a staff of about sixty reporters, editors, and production men. Three eight page issues, a Homecoming and two Senior A's, were published during the year.

AUTOGRAPHS OF THE CLUBS

ANNUAL STAFF

WITH "Our Campus World" as a theme, the 1941 annual staff has attempted to make this issue of "Dias Cardinales" the best that has ever been published at Hoover. The staff sincerely hopes that you will enjoy the annual, and that it will be a valuable record of your high school activities.

Phyllis Kefalas and Ardith Hellberg were the efficient co-managing editors. The February senior section was planned by Margaret Laudan, editor, and her assistant, Norma Holmes. Beverly McCreery and Bill McCarty, June co-editors, were responsible for the June senior, organization, and sports write-ups. Bill Gaylord ably filled the position of business manager.

Using photography, combined with drawings, for the first time, Arthur Sherman, June art editor, designed and photographed the outstanding division pages. Irene Elliott, February art editor, worked out the cover design. Bill McCarty wrote the clever verses, and Beverly McCreery drew the perky Cardinal birds on the division pages.

George McGuire and Joe Woods, head typists, saw to it that all the annual material was typed before the deadline, and they were assisted by the following girls in the office practice class: Betty Marie Hoopes, Elaine Remple, Marian Smith, Betty Allen, Margaret Walmsley, Mildred Clevenger, Margaret Corning, and June Souther. Beatrice North and Joyce Brubaker also assisted with the typing and identification of the pictures.

Miss Agnes Kokanour was adviser for the annual; Mrs. Grace Goodwin acted as literary critic, and Mrs. Phyllis Wallen supervised the art work.

APPRECIATION

The "Dias Cardinales" staff of 1941 sincerely expresses its gratitude and appreciation to all those who helped make this book. We especially wish to thank Mr. Hal Brucker of Neyenesch Printers, Inc., who gave us friendly criticism and advice; Mr. and Mrs. Adams of Hartsook's Studio, who were our patient and understanding photographers; Sunset Engravers; and Universal Cover Company, San Antonio, Texas. Also we wish to thank the entire faculty who cooperated so splendidly in helping to make our annual a success.
